

A close-up portrait of Samira Jones, a Black woman with dark, curly hair, smiling warmly. She is wearing a maroon button-down shirt and large gold hoop earrings. The background is blurred, showing bokeh lights from an outdoor setting.

Samira Jones

Founder Bio

Samira Jones is an award-winning advocate, author, and survivor who has transformed her personal pain into a global mission for justice and healing. As the founder of S.A.V.E. (Survivors. Advocates. Voices. Emerging.), she is leading the charge to dismantle the legislative barriers that silence survivors of childhood sexual abuse, particularly statutes of limitations that deny them the right to seek justice on their own timeline.

Samira's advocacy is rooted in her own story of survival. After years of silence, she found the courage to speak out about the abuse she endured as a child, and the disturbing reality that her abuser continued living freely among other vulnerable children. Her voice, once stifled by fear and shame, now amplifies the voices of others who feel unseen, unheard, or forgotten.

Through her writing, public speaking, and policy work, Samira empowers survivors to reclaim their narratives and demand reform. Her memoir, "Tough Skin: A Journey of Survival and Persevering Life's Challenges", offers a raw and honest account of her resilience and fight for freedom. She has been featured in The Huffington Post, multiple podcasts, and has hosted advocacy events across the U.S.

In 2017, Samira was recognized on the international stage with the Iconic Woman Making a Better World for All award, presented in India — a reflection of the impact her voice continues to have across borders and communities. Today, Samira Jones is not just a survivor. She is a catalyst for change, a truth-teller, and a bold, unshakable force for justice.

“I am the voice I once needed.”

- Samira Jones

Samira Jones is available for keynotes, panels, and podcast interviews on the following themes:

Breaking the Silence: A Survivor's Path to Justice

Unpacking the emotional, legal, and societal roadblocks survivors face — and how we can dismantle them.

When the Law Fails Survivors

A deep dive into statute of limitation barriers, legal loopholes, and why policy change is urgent and personal.

From Pain to Purpose: The Story Behind S.A.V.E.

How personal trauma became a global mission for advocacy, healing, and truth-telling.

UnSILENCED: Reclaiming Power After Abuse

A powerful conversation on finding identity, reclaiming power, and standing tall after silence.

Raising Conscious Communities

How families, educators, and leaders can become safe spaces for survivors and disrupt cycles of abuse.

Healing in the Black Community: Beyond the Shame

Exploring the intersections of culture, silence, and resilience in communities of color.

“This smile is proof that healing is possible.”
#jotthatdown

StayConnected

Facebook: SAVE - Survivors Advocates Voices Emerging

Instagram: @samiraljones

Threads: @samiraljones

X (Twitter): @wearesave1

YouTube: UnSILENCEDOfficial (Launching June 2025)

“Follow, share, and stand with survivors.”